

Lizines church

This church used to be the castle chapel. It became a parish church in the 11th century. The nave, tower and porch all date from this time. The building has some beautiful features including the sculpture group depicting St George and the dragon. Legend has it that St George, officer of the Roman legion, killed a dragon to whom a princess was to be sacrificed.

St-Loup-de-Naud church

This church features both late Romanesque and early Gothic architecture, including a remarkable portal with famous column statues similar to those of Notre-Dame de Chartres. An overmantel portrays St Loup wearing his priestly headdress.

Savins church

This church is dedicated to St Denis and St Lié. Legend has it that St Lié was born to a family of weavers in Savins in the 12th century. He became a martyr and in the Middle Ages, a pilgrimage was celebrated every year.

COURTON-LE-HAUT Three churches in the south of the Provins region

While the Montois region has some remarkable churches in different styles, the one in St-Loup-de-Naud, at the end of a track, is the most surprising.

Three churches in the south of the Provins region

- 1 Cut across the D106, take the street opposite slightly to your left, then turn right and then left. At the corner, go down the track on your right then the street. At the bend, take the path on your right, the street on your left and the D49 on your right. Follow the street on your left then the track on your left.
- 2 Pass the bridge on your right, over the brook, go under the railway then follow it on your left. After the wood, climb the track on your right. Remain on the right till you reach the plateau. Continue along the road. At the crossroads, go down the track on your left then the street. At the crossroads in Savins, pass between the well and the pond.
- 3 After the church, turn right then after the washhouse, turn onto the path on your left. Follow the path on your left, take the street on your right, then the one on your left. Bear right and cut across the D209. Take the track on your right and after the road, the track on your left. This takes you into the wood.
- 4 Go along the road on your right, down the path on your left, cross the brook and up. When you reach some houses, follow the path on your right, then on your left and cut across the road. Take the track on your left then on your right. Pass the streets on your left. Just before the D106, take the right track and after the valley, the D106 on your right, the road on your left and the one on your right. In Lizines, bear left twice and before the church, turn right.
- 5 The street becomes a track. After the left bend, turn right then left. The track winds round the edge of the wood, go down to the left in the wood and under the railway.
- 6 Follow the street on your left which ends as stairs, cross the D49. Continue up the stairs and turn right. After 300m, walk along the D49 on your left. Cross the brook and go up the track on your left. Go left at the fork, then turn right.
- 7 Climb the second track on your right to the edge of the wood. Cut across the track and go up along the edge of the wood. In Courton, follow the second street on your left and the track on your right for 400m. Take the street on your right, the path on your left and Rue de Vulaines on your right.

The trail markings on this route are installed and maintained by 250 footpath wardens from the Seine-et-Marne departmental hiking committee. (Codérando 77). It is part of a network of 4,500 km of walking and hiking trails in the department. If you notice any irregularities during your hikes (errors or lack of markings, poor maintenance, illegal waste disposal), please inform Codérando 77 via the website <http://sentinelles.sportsdenature.fr/> by selecting the "hiking" activity.
